which of the programmes we consider best. We take this opportunity of answering all that the three have been arranged with so much skill, that it is difficult to decide, but to those who can only attend on one occasion we say take in the opening night. Mr. Young and Miss Bayliss sing at all three concerts, so you will hear them whenever you attend. You will miss the great "Traviata" finale which is set for the second night, and the stirring inflammatus, but you will hear the "Rigo ietto" quartette, the exquiste part song, "Farewell to the Forest" by the chorus and you will experience all the eciat, novelty and excluement inseparable from the first night of any notable season. It is besides a holiday, and the audience which is apt to attend, will be alone worth the price of admission.

Christian union is said to be in the air. It is perhaps more in the air than in the hearts of the people, though, without doubt, many of the best people in all the churches deplore the divisions that disgrace and disfigure the religion of Christ. But the way to the desired union does not seem clear. The plan proposed by the Episcopal church is easily understood—that all other evangelical bodies be swallowed up by that church. Other religious bodies are willing for union on a similar plan, each understanding that others will be graciously taken in. The cry for union has been largely an expression of this desire. The meeting of the citizens was held last Friday evening, Hon. J. W. Christian in the chair. The object of the meeting was stated by Hon. John R. Murdock, and very encouraging remarks were made by Hon. T. C. Callister, of the Millard county railroad committee. The gentleman referred to the many great advantages the road would be to us all. How it would increase the value of property and how many enterprises that now lie idle from lack of encouragement would spring up and furnish employment for many hands. He spoke of the farming facilities, of manufacture, etc., showing pointedly that in order for us to keep pace with the times it was essential for us to have a railroad.

Chairman Christian followed and stated that the Beaver city railroad committee had agreed to help meet the expense of a preliminary survey through the counties named. The cost of this work would be from one thousand dollars to one thousand two hundred dollars. He believed it could the county of the work would be from one thousand dollars.

named. The cost of this work would be from one thousand dollars to one thousand two hundred dollars. He believed it could be demonstrated that to come our way would shorten the route by from twenty to thirty miles from Levan to the mouth of Fremont. The difficulties existing in Milard would be experienced in crossing Round Valley hill, but he had been assured that a feasible way had been found here. In Beaver county there would be Pine Creek hill, but these two greatest obstacles and most difficult passes in our counties had offsets in the other valley that were as great if not greater. He believed we should make the survey.
